MUSIC A FEATURE

THEY OPEN THEIR MOUTHS NOW AT SOUTH METHODIST.

TWO SOLOS FOR TONIGHT

Baptist Church Also is Having Good Service—Many Attending These Services.

A good congregation was present last night at the revival meeting in the M. E. church, South. Good music was a feature of the service. Mr. Spainhower succeeded in getting the congregation to sing. The membership and pastor, Rev. J. D. Randolph, are very much encouraged over the prospect for a gracious revival.

The text for the evening was Acts 16:30—"What must I do to be saved?" Rev. Randolph said that this was the greatest question in the world. A more important question than who is to be our next president or how much money we will make this year, or even whether we will live to see another October. After having given the issues and men before the people, in the coming election, careful study, our responsibility ends with our vote. We may do our best and yet be poorer at the end of the year than at the beginning. Death may take us tomorrow, and death never asks permission. Whether or not we are saved is a matter absolutely in our own power. If you are saved tonight it is because you have willed to be saved. If you are not saved it is because you have not so willed. It is up to you and to no one else.

The speaker then stressed the proposition that salvation is for the present world and present life as well as for the future world and future life. He said that until we were saved for the best in this world we were not saved in any world. Salvation makes one a better father, a better son, a better husband and a better citizen. It makes the world more beautiful and life more rich in true pleasure. Salvation is therefore a continuous process. We are saved day by day and not once for all time. Through faith in Christ we are saved from the guilt of sin. That is instantaneous. We are kept saved through unselfish service. That is continuous. Continuous unselfish service is the condition of staying saved not only in this world but in all possible worlds.

Tonight Mrs. Charles Thorp will sing a solo. Mr. Spainhower will sing again by special request "The Little Brown Church in the Dale."

The subject of the sermon will be "Sin," and will be given by Rev. Randolph.

PICKING SEED CORN.

October 12 Has Been Set Aside by the Normal as the Day for Collecting Seed.

Saturday has been set aside as seed corn day by the Normal school, and in a letter Prof. John E. Cameron, at the head of the agricultural department of the Normal, writes as follows: Iowa, South Dakota and other states have a special day set apart for the farmers to go into their corn fields and collect in sacks sufficient seed for the next year's crop. The corn is then hauled to the house or barn and hung up in a dry place where there is free circulation of air. Treated in this way the corn will dry out, and if kept dry freezing will not hurt the germ. Freezing while moist or starting to grow because of heat and moisture means poor seed next spring.

The agricultural department of the Northwest Normal school suggests October 12 as the special day for the fifth normal district. The pupils of the public schools can help, and it is urged that the teachers give hearty encouragement to the children to take part in this work.

Well matured ears, with straight rows, well filled out at butt and tip, and from nine to eleven inches in length, taken from good vigorous stalks, are the ones that should be selected for the next corn crop.

Eighty or ninety ears make a bushel of seed corn, and one bushel will plant approximately eight acres. A few hours of work collecting seed on October 12, if not before, drying it out and keeping it dry through the winter will save the tedious testing of corn in the spring, freedom from worry about poor seed, and other conditions being right, ensures a good stand of corn next year.

Do not wait until husking time but get enough of the best ears that you can find and hang up and dry before danger of freezing weather. October 12 is the day for this work, if not done before.

MEMORIES OF CLEARMONT.

Written by Joe Farquhar, the Poet Laureate of That Town.

The following is a poem written by Joe Farquhar of Clearmont:

JOE FARQUHAR.

When the moon is sweetly smiling
Down upon the middle west,
And the autumn breezes whisper
Of the friends we love the best,
It is then with sweetest memories,
My friendship I renew.

As I think of friends in Clearmont
With a happy, glad review.

We have often met where moonbeams
Shone upon the summer dew,
Told with laughter many stories
By the old C. B. & Q.

Long will they be remembered,
The noble, true and brave,
When the traitor class lie moldered
In their long-forgotten graves.

And when alone I wander,
Where crystal brooklets play,
I will think of happy hours,
Which with them I've whiled away.

We have often met with pleasure,
In discussions, long or brief,
Each one feeling at his freedom
To express his own belief.

The mountains may divide us,
As I wander to the west,
Still the memories of Missouri
Shall be treasured in my breast.
Although with friends and loved ones,
Until the day I die,
I'll remember friends in Clearmont,
And the happy days gone by.

DEBATED QUESTION

ARGUMENTS FOR AND AGAINST SINGLE TAX OFFERED.

IT IS UNPOPULAR HERE

An Association Will Probably Be Formed to Oppose Adoption of the Amendment.

The single tax amendment to be voted on at the November election is being discussed pro and con at a meeting in the court house this afternoon. The meeting was only fairly attended, owing to the rainy weather.

J. R. Hermann of Denver, Col., a single taxer, spoke first and told of many reasons why he thought the single tax amendment should carry in Missouri. He talked thirty minutes.

J. E. Dowell of Adrian, Mo., followed Mr. Hermann and presented many strong arguments why the single tax amendment should not carry. Mr. Dowell, in giving one example of the workings of the law, should it carry, said:

"Mr. Single Taxer, let us start two young men out in life, each charged with the investment of $10,000. One invests his money in real estate, the other in bank stock. At the end of ten years you pass a law making all the taxes derive from the land. You thereby exempt the young fellow who was lucky enough to invest in bank stock and make the young man who was unlucky enough to invest his money in land pay the taxes for both pieces of value. Is it fair? This is what you must decide when you vote on these amendments in November. Will you destroy the incentive of the young men of this state to engage in a business that means the absolute essentials of life and force him into other businesses, thereby increasing the cost of living?"

Mr. Hermann had fifteen minutes to reply to Mr. Dowell's address, and Mr. Dowell had five minutes to make the last talk. The people that heard the talks were the jury.

There is much opposition to the single tax in Nodaway county, and an organization will probably be formed here by Mr. Dowell. Anyway, the people are glad to hear the question debated.

LINCOLN'S DICTIONARY.

Relic of War President Given to State Historical Society.

A dictionary which belonged to Abraham Lincoln has just been received by the State Historical society of Missouri from W. W. Glass, a retired farmer of Maryville.

The title of the book is "An Universal Etymological English Dictionary and Interpreter of Hard Words."

The book is slightly more than two inches thick and is printed in peculiar type. On the flyleaf is written, "Lincoln, 1772," and also "A. Lincoln, His Book, Bought in Year of our Lord 1795."

This A. Lincoln is supposed to have been an ancestor of Abraham Lincoln's. The name of Thomas Lincoln, father of the president, is also written in the book.

When Mr. Glass bought an eighty-acre farm in Hancock county, Illinois, in 1879, he found the book in the attic of a house on the farm. The place adjoined farms owned by three old bachelor cousins of Lincoln's. These cousins and the man from whom Mr. Glass bought his farm frequently exchanged books. The dictionary had evidently been loaned to the neighbor and had been stuck in between the rafters of the old log house.

The book is bound with skin from a buck said to have been shot by Lincoln. The bullet hole can be seen very plainly.

Herschel Colbert of Maryville, a student in the University of Missouri, persuaded Mr. Glass to send the book to the State Historical society. It has not been formally donated to the society, but has been loaned to it indefinitely. It is considered one of the most valuable books in the library.

CAMPAIGN TO OPEN

DEMOCRATS WILL GATHER AT THE COURT HOUSE SATURDAY.

FOUR GOOD SPEAKERS

Rainey, Jost, Wallace and Booher to Do the Talking—Jost's First Speech in County.

The county Democratic campaign will open in Maryville on Saturday, when prominent Democratic orators will discuss the political issues of the day. Congressman Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, Mayor Henry Jost of Kansas City, Judge William H. Wallace of Kansas City, and Congressman Charles F. Booher of Savannah are the speakers.

Every Democrat in the county should be sure to attend this meeting, as it will prove worth while. It is doubtful whether the Democrats ever opened their campaign in this county with a bigger array of speakers than the ones secured for this opening.

John M. Dawson, chairman of the Democratic county committee has sent out a number of letters over the county inviting the Democrats, and also to members of other parties, to attend this meeting. It was impossible to send letters to all of them, but they are all invited.

At this meeting will be the first time Mayor Jost has made a speech in Maryville. We all know or have heard of Henry Jost, as he is a Nodaway county boy. He was raised near Hopkins and was admitted to the bar at Maryville. And Nodaway county is proud of him.

The speaking will take place in the court house, and Congressman Booher and Judge Wallace will speak in the afternoon and Congressman Rainey and Mayor Jost in the evening. Judge Wallace's subject is not political, but he will talk on the single tax amendment and present arguments why it should be defeated.

The navy department at Washington is up against a serious predicament. They want one million dollars worth of supplies and find that they can save $300,000, or almost one-third, by going abroad to get them instead of being patriotic and patronizing the protected trusts that the government has helped to build up. The department hates to place its order abroad and it hates to throw away $300,000, so they are begging the steel and powder trusts to come down, so far without effect.

DON'T KNOW THEY HAVE APPENDICITIS.

Many Maryville people who have chronic appendicitis, which is not very painful, have doctored for years for gas on the stomach, sour stomach or constipation. Warren Jones, druggist, states if these people will try simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as compounded in Adler-I-ka, the German appendicitis remedy, they will be surprised at the QUICK benefit. A SINGLE DOSE relieves these troubles INSTANTLY.

DID BUSINESS IN MILLIONS

But at Close of the Day's Proceedings Bankers Couldn't Produce $40 in Currency.

One discovers more different sorts of odd things in New York than anywhere else in the world. For example, writes the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star, there is a banking house downtown which occupies almost an entire floor in one of the most exclusive business structures. This banking house handles nothing but "big" business. Nothing less than a $1,000,000 transaction can secure the attention of the senior partners. They rather fancy taking complete charge of a great bond issue, which gives their letter writers almost free rein in tying ciphers to numerals. About the time the market closes a fleet of honking motor cars fills the street beneath, waiting for the various partners to "home, John." The other day a man came in with a $40 due and payable, addressed to one of the juniors.

"And I wish you'd let me have the currency," said he. "I'm off for the season and need a little change." The junior partner said, "Certainly." And went through his pockets. He had less than $4. He walked into the glass partitioned room inhabited by the next junior with a request for cash. The next junior had $11 and was on his way uptown. The junior partner tried the seniors. None was in. Then he called the head clerk and asked him to cash a check for the sum.

"Sorry, sir," said the head clerk, "but there isn't $40 in the vaults."

So that a boy was sent to a bank on the street level and the money obtained. The explanation is, of course, that such an establishment has no need for actual cash in the transaction of its business. But it is rather queer that a banking house of such magnitude should be stumped for $40.

An Automobile Accident.

Guy Perdue of Hutchinson, Kan., formerly of Maryville, was in an automobile accident last week in which he narrowly escaped being killed.

In company with three other business men of Hutchinson, they were driving in a car to Salina on a business trip, and in making a sharp turn in the road leading to the town they struck a two-foot embankment and the automobile leaped over a barb wire fence into a newly plowed field.

Mr. Perdue and companions were thrown a distance of twenty-five feet, the soft plowed ground saving them from broken bones or death. The automobile cleared the fence, but the paint was scraped off the car as it went over.

CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help, Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S. Kendrick, in a letter from this place, "and at times, I could not bear to stand on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer."

I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They said medicines would do me no good, and I thought I would have to die.

At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now, I am well, and can do my own work. I don't feel any pains.

Cardui worked like a charm. There must be merit in this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—Cardui—for it has been in successful use for more than 50 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and disease.

Please try it, for your troubles.

OFFERED 1,400 HORSE CURES

REWARD FOR PLAGUE REMEDY BROUGHT MANY REPLIES.

All Prescriptions Now Being Tested at Lawrence—Came From This and Seven Foreign Countries.

Topeka, Oct. 10.—More than 1,400 alleged cures for the horse plague which swept Kansas this summer have been submitted to Gov. Stubbs in competition for the reward of $1,000 offered by the government to anyone who could produce a cure.

The last day when cures could be submitted has passed. The proclamation offering the reward was issued September 9 and was good for 30 days. The cure to be submitted in that time and tested afterward.

All of the cures and prescriptions have been sent to the state agricultural college for testing, and the veterinarians will determine whether any one is entitled to the reward.

The cures came from every state in the Union and from seven foreign countries. Many were submitted by women. Only five of the remedies are exactly alike.

Many of the cures contained some of the strongest drugs known used in medicine and in quantities that meant sure death to the animal if administered. Very few were offered by veterinarians and about 30 were sent by drug houses and patent medicine manufacturers.

PROTECT LOWER EXPRESS RATES

Attorneys for All Big Companies Appear Before Commerce Commission to Fight Reduction.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Attorneys representing the American, the Southern, Wells Fargo, Adams, United States, Great Northern and fifteen other express companies, including the Canadian Express company and express companies of Great Britain and France doing an international business with express companies in the United States, appeared before the interstate commerce commission today and opposed recent findings of the commission reducing express rates generally throughout the United States.

During the session of congress, when it was proposed by certain members to condemn express property and put it under government control, express companies generally, it was understood, would accept the findings of the commission. Much surprise was occasioned when it was discovered that certain companies were preparing to fight the matter out in the courts. The arguments submitted today by express attorneys was preliminary, it is understood, to an appeal to either the commerce court or the United States district courts.

It is supposed by men familiar with the case that the companies will fight the matter out in the courts.

NAMES RECEIVERS FOR GAS COMPANY

Kansas Natural Now Under Protection
of Federal Court.

INSISTS ON FIFTY CENT RATE

Petition States This is the Only Remedy for Financial Difficulties—
Judges Order Receivers to Get More Gas.

Kansas City, Kan., Oct. 10.—Three receivers for the Kansas Natural Gas company were appointed 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon by Judge Pollock of the Kansas federal court and Judge Campbell of the Oklahoma federal court, sitting jointly.

The men named are Conway F. Holmes, Kansas City, Mo., president of the Pioneer Trust company; George Sharritt, Topeka, former clerk of the U. S. circuit court, and Eugene F. Mackey, Pittsburgh, Pa., president of the Kansas Natural Gas company.

The receivers' bonds were fixed at $25,000 each and they were directed to take charge of the gas company's property at once.

Only Attorneys Present.

No one appeared in the proceedings except Charles Blood Smith, attorney for John L. McKinney, a Pennsylvania bondholder of the company, who asked the receivership, and John J. Jones, attorney for the company.

In the course of the afternoon J. W. Garner, an assistant city counselor of Kansas City, Mo., and R. J. Higgins, Kansas City, Kan., city attorney, appeared before the judges, who were closeted in Judge Pollock's private office, and requested that action on the receivership be deferred until the city representatives could look over the petition filed by Mr. Smith. The judges informed the city attorneys that in the event receivers were appointed no action which could be detrimental to either city would be taken.

Only Way Out.

The petition stated that the only way by which the company can get out of its financial difficulties is to furnish natural gas for lighting and cooking only at 50 cents a thousand cubic feet. Judge Pollock said the receivership is intended to be a benefit to every gas consumer furnished by the Kansas Natural Gas company in that it is aimed to provide a greater supply of gas. In his opinion, the receivership was the only way left for the company to obtain money for extensions so that the output of new fields could be added.

Into Glenn Pool.

In the order appointing the receivers the judges directed that the receivers proceed at once to obtain the added supply of gas from the Glenn Pool district. According to Judge Pollock they will find themselves without funds to build the extensions as directed. When, in this extremity they appeal to the court, the court will make some provision for their obtaining the money.

While awaiting the outcome of the consultation between the judges the two interested attorneys made no secret of the fact that the receivership proceedings, instituted nominally by a bondholder, were quite acceptable to the company.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 10.—A fuzzy dog worth $5,000 was choked to death here by a pet monkey belonging to Joseph Wimmer, a scrap iron dealer. The dog was a prize Pomeranian and belonged to Robert Garland, a wealthy ranchman. When Garland's maid led the dog into the yard in the morning he saw the monkey on the back fence. As soon as the dog showed interest the monkey went for him and a hot battle followed. The monkey, though severely cut, finally got a hold on the dog's throat and it was all over. Garland got a warrant for Wimmer and his monkey.

EASY TO RESTORE HAT

HOW WORK OF FRESHENING MAY BE ACCOMPLISHED.

Washing in Denatured Alcohol Will Do Wonders With the Faded Flowers the Hardest to Bring Back to Color.

The girl who does not want to spend another dollar on her hats can do a surprising amount of freshening. Let her remove the trimming and freshen the hat itself. A black hat is easy. It can be made to look like new by washing in denatured alcohol after dusting. The entire hat may be soaked in the alcohol and while still damp it is straightened where bent.

The woman who once a week wipes off black hats with alcohol and also uses it on ribbons will find her hats wear much longer.

Colored hats that have faded are seemingly hopeless, but a box of water-color paint, or some of the special dyes for straw hats, soon restores their beauty. Soiled white hats can be freshened by bread crumbs—a favorite method of cleaning with many milliners—and they are improved by coating thickly with magnesia, which is kept on over night. One woman uses the whiteners that she put on her shoes.

Sunburnt hats are hard to freshen. If good, they should be sent to a bleacher; if not worth that, try bleaching them at home with oxalic acid, a teaspoonful to a pint of water.

Scrub the straw well, then rinse at once with hot water, followed by cold. Wipe dry and hang in the sun. While still damp, press with a hot iron on the wrong side, with a thin cloth over the straw.

White feathers and the numerous aigrettes of the season may be made snowy by cleaning in a paste made of gasoline and white cornmeal, and rinsing with gasoline alone, or with more of the paste until it shows no soil. If the curl has come out, hold it over the kitchen range or curl the fues, a few at a time, with the back of a heated silver knife.

Ribbons may be washed in alcohol and pressed under heavy paper or a thick cloth while still slightly damp. Faded flowers are almost hopeless, but may be freshened by coloring with powdered rouge, rubbing off the edges for shaded effects.

Steel buckles can be soaked in coal oil for six or eight hours, then polished with fine emery. Jet is brightened by rubbing in alcohol and polishing with tissue paper. Dull bronze and gilt trimmings are difficult, but may be somewhat freshened by good silver polish thinned with alcohol instead of water.

Lace that will wash should be first soaked in cold water, then put in a glass jar with lukewarm water and a tiny pinch of borax and well shaken. Rinse well in several hot waters, squeeze out most of the moisture and dry by covering a drawing board with a Turkish towel, to which the lace is pinned, each point in position. Dry in the sun.

Lace that will not wash may be cleaned with French chalk or magnesia.

DENIES THE MORGAN STORY

MACVEAGH DEMANDED HEARING BEFORE COMMITTEE.

Arrived From Bryn Mawr, Pa., Just in Time to be First Witness Called.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Wayne MacVeagh of Bryn Mawr, Pa., from whom it is alleged to have originated the story that President Roosevelt demanded more money from J. P. Morgan and E. I. Harriman during the 1904 campaign, and that Morgan referred to the president as that "maniac in the White House," arrived at the senate office building unexpectedly just before the senate committee convened and demanded to be placed on the stand.

Mr. MacVeagh was the first witness called. He immediately denied the fundamental fact of the testimony given by Charles Edward Russell and Jackson C. Welliver concerning the alleged request of President Roosevelt for additional campaign funds from J. P. Morgan by telephone in 1904.

MacVeagh was the authority given by both Welliver and Russell for their version of the story. He said that being on very friendly terms with Mr. Morgan he was very probably in Morgan's office on one or two occasions during 1904.

"I have no recollection, however," he said, "of overhearing Mr. Morgan hold a telephone conversation. I went and came into his office as I saw fit." He said the only incident which he might have related to Welliver which would account for the Morgan story was hearsay and added: "It comes through two dead men."

Balkan Countries All Have Good Flying Equipment.

BULGARIA PLAYING FOR TIME

Servian Troops Rushing to Frontier by Forced Marches—French Foreign Office Still Waits Reply to Note.

Paris, Oct. 10.—A battle between armored aeroplanes, long considered a fancy of the inventive writer, probably will be made a real story in the Balkan war. Monoplanes, biplanes and even hydro-aeroplanes may figure in the fighting, for all the countries concerned have flying departments of their armies.

Expert aviators, educated at French schools of flying, have been enlisted in the armies of the peninsula countries. The practicability of the aircraft in war probably will have its first test in this conflict, a test which probably will settle the question.

Turkey Has Twelve.
Turkey is fixed best for an air equipment. The Ottoman government recently bought eight monoplanes in France, two in England and two in Germany.

Greece possesses six French biplanes and one hydro-aeroplane. Bulgaria owns one monoplane and three biplanes and the war department at Sofia has ordered additional machines from Germany.

Bulgaria Hesitates.
The French foreign office at a late hour still was without a reply from Sofia, Athens or Belgrade, and the only suggestion thus far as to its possible tenor is found in the remark of the Bulgarian foreign minister, when the note of the powers was delivered that "perhaps it would have had a better chance of success if presented a fortnight earlier."

Bulgaria's hesitation is variously interpreted. Most of the diplomats are of the opinion that it is merely a device to gain time to complete the war preparations, but a shrewd minority has not given up hope that King Ferdinand is searching for some ground to enable him to give satisfaction to the powers without risking his own crown.

Servia to Declare.
Berlin, Oct. 10.—One of the leading Berlin banks has just received a telegram from Belgrade stating that the declaration of war by Servia would be delivered immediately. Servian troops are being rushed by forced marches toward the frontier from the mobilization center. The Servians and Turks already have come into contact, according to the reports of a special correspondent. Another telegram from Belgrade states that the reply of the Servian premier, M. Pashich, to the Austro-Russian representations was tantamount to rejection.

Prince Fires First Shot.
Podgoritz, Montenegro, Oct. 10.—The Montenegrin army opened war against Turkey by attacking a strong Turkish position opposite Podgoritz. Prince Peter, the youngest son of King Nicholas, fired the first shot. Within 21 minutes five Turkish guns were silenced and by noon the Turks had evacuated the mountain.

TO INSIST ON HEALTH WEDDINGS

Methodists Favor Most Radical Changes Ever Adopted by Any Protestant Church.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—The Rock river conference of the Methodist Episcopal church is on record as favoring the most radical recommendations ever adopted with regard to marriage and divorce by a government body of a Protestant church.

"Wed in health or stay single," is the law which the conference would have adopted in every state.

Physical examination of every applicant for a marriage license, a statute providing that no divorce be granted except on Scriptural grounds, a law making abandonment of a wife by a husband a felony and federal control of the entire subject of marriage and divorce are advocated.

Indian Records Missing.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 10.—In connection with the charges recently filed against A. J. Boles of Guthrie, Dr. A. L. Edgington of Watouza and E. D. McGowan of Tallhina, land appraisers in the employ of the interior department, it was announced that the daily journal of proceedings covering the appraisal of lands in the Choctaw-Chickasaw Indian country had been stolen.

Gallatin, Mo., Oct. 10.—Enraged because the girl he loved jilted him and married another, Harley Bartlett attacked Mrs. Pearl Mills Pomeroy in the public road near Clear Creek schoolhouse and injured her severely.

NEWSPAPER TO TEST NEW LAW

New York Paper Refuses to File Circulation Figures as Required.

ASKS TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

American Publishers' Association is Backing Action Directed at Postmaster General Hitchcock and Other Officials.

New York, Oct. 10.—Suit to test the right of the government to enforce the federal law of August 24, 1912, requiring newspapers and periodicals to publish their circulation figures twice a year and imposing other publicity requirements, was filed in the United States district court here by the Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin company, publishers of the Journal of Commerce.

The suit is directed against Postmaster General Hitchcock, Attorney General Wickham, United States District Attorney Wise and Postmaster Morgan of New York. The petitioner charges that the law is unconstitutional and prays for a temporary injunction restraining its enforcement until final adjudication. It also requests that the defendants be required by subpoena to answer.

Back of the action according to Robert C. Morris, counsel for the complainant, is the American Newspaper Publishers' association. The association decided recently to file a test suit and the Journal of Commerce, Mr. Norris said in filing its petition, has the sanction and co-operation of the association.

Charges Law is Void.
The petition alleges that there are upwards of 25,000 newspapers and periodicals in the country affected by the law. It charges that the law is void because it violates the constitution of the United States and particularly the first and fifth amendments and abridges the freedom of the press.

The law is characterized as of no benefit to the postoffice or any other department of the government inasmuch as obedience by the periodicals and newspapers would not "aid or assist in the operation of the postoffice department or in the carrying of the mails, or in the regulation thereof."

Refuses to Comply.
In its petition, the complainant announces that it will not comply with the law for the reasons given and declares that the defendants are about to enforce the law by denying the complainant the use of the mails.

It is charged also that the law if enforced would result in the confiscation of the complainant's property without due process.

"It is not within the power of congress," the complainant continues, "to enact said act; and it is an usurpation by congress of powers expressly reserved to the several states, and is legislation affecting matters with which the several states of the United States alone have the right to treat."

VICTIM HAS THIEF RELEASED

Wealthy Woman Bails Man Who Took Gems. So He May Help Recover Them.

San Francisco, Oct. 10.—Mrs. J. J. Valentine, widow of a former president of the Wells-Fargo Express company, had released from jail John Sommers, who admits that he found and pawned Mrs. Valentine's jewels, worth $10,000. Sommers is out on bail of $500, which Mrs. Valentine arranged for him.

"If I get him out he can help me find the jewels," she explained. "Most of them are heirlooms and I want them back particularly on that account."

Sommers was arrested in Los Angeles. He found the jewels in a San Francisco street car and kept one diamond, which led to his arrest.

To Send Mail by Air.

Berlin, Oct. 10.—Germany has asked Denmark whether it is disposed to employ German airships in carrying Trans-Baltic mails, Denmark paying a small subsidy which will be devoted to building and maintaining an airship station at Amager, near Copenhagen. Germany contends that air mail service would be particularly advantageous in winter, when the ice often delays steamships.

Kick Saved Boy's Life.

Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 10.—In a daring act of heroism, Milo C. Dodge, fireman on the Milwaukee railroad saved the life of Gerald Allar, a 2½-year-old boy by crawling out on the pilot and kicking the child from the track as the train sped by. The boy, who landed in a ditch by the track, suffered only minor injuries about the head and body.

25 CENT "DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR AND DANDRUFF—GROWS HAIR

DON'T PAY 50 CENTS FOR WORTH LESS HAIR TONICS—USE OLD, RELIABLE, HARMLESS "DAN DERINE"—GET RESULTS.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's

Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Long left Thursday morning for Phoenix, Ariz., where they will spend the winter. In the spring they will go to Pomona, Cal., to spend the summer with their daughter, Mrs. John F. Whipp, and her family, who have been in Maryville since early summer on a visit to relatives. Mrs. Whipp underwent a surgical operation at St. Francis hospital about two weeks ago and will not be able to make the trip home for several weeks to come. Mr. and Mrs. Long's home, to where Mrs. Whipp will be removed soon, is in charge of their granddaughter, Mrs. Cleve Moyer, and Mr. Moyer.

They were married in June and had been housekeeping but three weeks when Rev. Love was seized with fever, Mrs. Love succumbing to the disease two weeks later. They are now able to walk around in their home, but expect to leave Saturday for Camden Point to visit Rev. Love's mother during the days of convalescence.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Campbell of Elmo arrived Wednesday to visit their son, A. A. Campbell, and family.

THEY OPEN THEIR MOUTHS NOW
AT SOUTH METHODIST.

TWO SOLOS FOR TONIGHT

Baptist Church Also is Having Good Service—Many Attending These Services.

A good congregation was present last night at the revival meeting in the M. E. church, South. Good music was a feature of the service. Mr. Spahnauer succeeded in getting the congregation to sing. The membership and pastor, Rev. J. D. Randolph, are very much encouraged over the prospect for a gracious revival.

The text for the evening was Acts 16:30—"What must I do to be saved?" Rev. Randolph said that this was the greatest question in the world. A more important question than who is to be our next president or how much money we will make this year, or even whether we will live to see another October. After having given the issues and men before the people, in the coming election, careful study, our responsibility ends with our vote. We may do our best and yet be poorer at the end of the year than at the beginning. Death may take us tomorrow, and death never asks permission. Whether or not we are saved is a matter absolutely in our own power. If you are saved tonight it is because you have willed to be saved. If you are not saved it is because you have not so willed. It is up to you and to no one else.

The speaker then stressed the proposition that salvation is for the present world and present life as well as for the future world and future life. He said that until we were saved for the best in this world we were not saved in any world. Salvation makes one a better father, a better son, a better husband and a better citizen. It makes the world more beautiful and life more rich in true pleasure. Salvation is therefore a continuous process. We are saved day by day and not once for all time. Through faith in Christ we are saved from the guilt of sin. That is instantaneous. We are kept saved through unselfish service. That is continuous. Continuous unselfish service is the condition of staying saved not only in this world but in all possible worlds.

Tonight Mrs. Charles Thorp will sing a solo. Mr. Spahnauer will sing again by special request "The Little Brown Church in the Dale."

The subject of the sermon will be "Sin," and will be given by Rev. Randolph.

PICKING SEED CORN.

October 12 Has Been Set Aside by the Normal as the Day for Collecting Seed.

Saturday has been set aside as seed corn day by the Normal school, and in a letter Prof. John E. Cameron, at the head of the agricultural department of the Normal, writes as follows: Iowa, South Dakota and other states have a special day set apart for the farmers to go into their corn fields and collect in sacks sufficient seed for the next year's crop. The corn is then hauled to the house or barn and hung up in a dry place where there is free circulation of air. Treated in this way the corn will dry out, and if kept dry freezing will not hurt the germ. Freezing while moist or starting to grow because of heat and moisture means poor seed next spring.

The agricultural department of the Northwest Normal school suggests October 12 as the special day for the fifth normal district. The pupils of the public schools can help, and it is urged that the teachers give hearty encouragement to the children to take part in this work.

Well matured ears, with straight rows, well filled out at butt and tip, and from nine to eleven inches in length, taken from good vigorous stalks, are the ones that should be selected for the next corn crop.

Eighty or ninety ears make a bushel of seed corn, and one bushel will plant approximately eight acres. A few hours of work collecting seed on October 12, if not before, drying it out and keeping it dry through the winter will save the tedious testing of corn in the spring, freedom from worry about poor seed, and other conditions being right, ensures a good stand of corn next year.

Do not wait until husking time but get enough of the best ears that you can find and hang up and dry before danger of freezing weather. October 12 is the day for this work, if not done before.

MEMORIES OF CLEARMONT.

Written by Joe Farquhar, the Poet
Laureate of That Town.

The following is a poem written by Joe Farquhar of Clearmont:

JOE FARQUHAR.

When the moon is sweetly smiling
Down upon the middle west,
And the autumn breezes whisper
Of the friends we love the best,
It is then with sweetest memories,
My friendship I renew,
As I think of friends in Clearmont
With a happy, glad review.

We have often met where moonbeams
Shone upon the summer dew,
Told with laughter many stories
By the old C. B. & Q.
Long will they be remembered,
The noble, true and brave,
When the traitor class lie moldered
In their long-forgotten graves.

And when alone I wander,
Where crystal brooklets play,
I will think of happy hours,
Which with them I've whiled away.
We have often met with pleasure,
In discussions, long or brief,
Each one feeling at his freedom
To express his own belief.

The mountains may divide us,
As I wander to the west,
Still the memories of Missouri
Shall be treasured in my breast.
Although with friends and loved ones,
Until the day I die,
I'll remember friends in Clearmont,
And the happy days gone by.

DEBATED QUESTION

ARGUMENTS FOR AND AGAINST SINGLE TAX OFFERED.

IT IS UNPOPULAR HERE

An Association Will Probably Be Formed to Oppose Adoption of the Amendment.

The single tax amendment to be voted on at the November election is being discussed pro and con at a meeting in the court house this afternoon. The meeting was only fairly attended, owing to the rainy weather.

J. R. Hermann of Denver, Col., a single taxer, spoke first and told of many reasons why he thought the single tax amendment should carry in Missouri. He talked thirty minutes.

J. E. Dowell of Adrian, Mo., followed Mr. Hermann and presented many strong arguments why the single tax amendment should not carry. Mr. Dowell, in giving one example of the workings of the law, should it carry, said:

"Mr. Single Taxer, let us start two young men out in life, each charged with the investment of $10,000. One invests his money in real estate, the other in bank stock. At the end of ten years you pass a law making all the taxes derive from the land. You thereby exempt the young fellow who was lucky enough to invest in bank stock and make the young man who was unlucky enough to invest his money in land pay the taxes for both pieces of value. Is it fair? This is what you must decide when you vote on these amendments in November. Will you destroy the incentive of the young men of this state to engage in a business that means the absolute essentials of life and force him into other businesses, thereby increasing the cost of living?"

Mr. Hermann had fifteen minutes to reply to Mr. Dowell's address, and Mr. Dowell had five minutes to make the last talk. The people that heard the talks were the jury.

There is much opposition to the single tax in Nodaway county, and an organization will probably be formed here by Mr. Dowell. Anyway, the people are glad to hear the question debated.

LINCOLN'S DICTIONARY.

Relic of War President Given to State
Historical Society.

A dispatch from Columbia, Mo., says: A dictionary which belonged to Abraham Lincoln has just been received by the State Historical society of Missouri from W. W. Glass, a retired farmer of Maryville.

The title of the book is "An Universal Etymological English Dictionary and Interpreter of Hard Words."

The book is slightly more than two inches thick and is printed in peculiar type. On the flyleaf is written, "Lincoln, 1772," and also "A. Lincoln, His Book, Bought in Year of our Lord 1795."

This A. Lincoln is supposed to have been an ancestor of Abraham Lincoln's. The name of Thomas Lincoln, father of the president, is also written in the book.

When Mr. Glass bought an eighty-acre farm in Hancock county, Illinois, in 1875, he found the book in the attic of a house on the farm. The place adjoined farms owned by three old bachelor cousins of Lincoln's. These cousins and the man from whom Mr. Glass bought his from frequently exchanged books. The dictionary had evidently been loaned to the neighbor and had been stuck in between the rafters of the old log house.

The book is bound with skin from a buck said to have been shot by Lincoln. The bullet hole can be seen very plainly.

Herschel Colbert of Maryville, a student in the University of Missouri, persuaded Mr. Glass to send the book to the State Historical society. It has not been formally donated to the society, but has been loaned to it indefinitely. It is considered one of the most valuable books in the library.

CAMPAIGN TO OPEN

DEMOCRATS WILL GATHER AT THE COURT HOUSE SATURDAY.

FOUR GOOD SPEAKERS

Rainey, Jost, Wallace and Booher to Do the Talking—Jost's First Speech in County.

The county Democratic campaign will open in Maryville on Saturday, when prominent Democratic orators will discuss the political issues of the day. Congressman Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, Mayor Henry Jost of Kansas City, Judge William H. Wallace of Kansas City, and Congressman Charles F. Booher of Savannah are the speakers.

Every Democrat in the county should be sure to attend this meeting, as it will prove worth while. It is doubtful whether the Democrats ever opened their campaign in this county with a bigger array of speakers than the ones secured for this opening.

John M. Dawson, chairman of the Democratic county committee has sent out a number of letters over the county inviting the Democrats, and also to members of other parties, to attend this meeting. It was impossible to send letters to all of them, but they are all invited.

At this meeting will be the first time Mayor Jost has made a speech in Maryville. We all know or have heard of Henry Jost, as he is a Nodaway county boy. He was raised near Hopkins and was admitted to the bar at Maryville. And Nodaway county is proud of him.

The speaking will take place in the court house, and Congressman Booher and Judge Wallace will speak in the afternoon and Congressman Rainey and Mayor Jost in the evening. Judge Wallace's subject is not political, but he will talk on the single tax amendment and present arguments why it should be defeated.

17 DIVORCE CASES

MANY WILL SEEK SEPARATION
FROM CIRCUIT COURT.

CONVENES NOVEMBER 11

Many Cases Left Over From June
Term Will Be Tried—Glover Case
to Be Heard.

The November term of circuit court will meet on Monday, November 11, and the indications are at the present time that the term will not come up to the usual November term. There are many cases to be tried, a number of them being cases that were continued from the June term and the February term of court.

Saturday will be the last day to file trial cases for this term of court. All cases or suits on notes, accounts and appeal cases from the justice courts don't have to be filed until within fifteen days before the court meets.

At the November term one of the sensational and important cases to come up will be the case of James Glover vs. D. T. Garrett, both of the parties being from Burlington Junction. Glover is suing for $25,000 for the alienation of his wife's affections.

There are also seventeen divorce cases to be tried at this term, seven of them being cases that were continued from the June term. This is a large number of divorces to come up, probably more than they have had at any term of court for some time.

TROPHY PRESENTED

To the Champions of the Summer Normal Base Ball Tournament by the Toggery Shop.

The trophy offered by the Toggery shop to the winning team in the summer base ball league of 1912 was recently presented and now hang, on display in the president's office. It is in the form of a banner 3 1/2 x 6 feet, suspended from a heavy brass rod. The background is in forest green and the trimming and lettering of white felt. The name of the winning team, the Giants, is inscribed in the center of the banner. The trophy is a handsome gift, and the Toggery Shop has the thanks of the entire school for their generosity.

The pennant chase in the league was a splendid one and the race was not decided until the last game between the Giants and Captain Miller's Athletics. The Giants won out through the good work of Captain Criss in the box and the heavy hitting of the team in tight places. The Athletics made a splendid fight and lost out as much through luck as any inferiority on their part. The last division was occupied by the Cubs and Pirates, who finished in the order named. Captain Wilson's Cubs were the favorites through the first half of the schedule, but fell down through loose fielding in critical games. Captain Kirby Taylor's Pirates were the champion hard luck team, and after the middle of the season had no chance to win, but gamely kept up the fight. On the whole the summer league was a howling success and will be a fixture in every summer term hereafter.

The navy department at Washington is up against a serious predicament. They want one million dollars worth of supplies and find that they can save $300,000, or almost one-third, by going abroad to get them instead of being patriotic and patronizing the protected trusts that the government has helped to build up. The department hates to place its order abroad and it hates to throw away $300,000, so they are begging the steel and powder trusts to come down, so far without effect.

DID BUSINESS IN MILLIONS

But at Close of the Day's Proceedings Bankers Couldn't Produce $40 in Currency.
One discovers more different sorts of odd things in New York than anywhere else in the world. For example, writes the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star, there is a banking house downtown which occupies almost an entire floor in one of the most exclusive business structures. This banking house handles nothing but "big" business. Nothing less than a $1,000,000 transaction can secure the attention of the senior partners. They rather fancy taking complete charge of a great bond issue, which gives their letter writers almost free rein in tying up the numerals. About the time the market closes a fleet of honking motor cars fills the street beneath, waiting for the various partners to "home, John." The other day a man came in with a $40 due and payable, addressed to one of the juniors.
"And I wish you'd let me have the currency," said he. "I'm off for the seashore and need a little change."
The junior partner said, "Certainly."
And went through his pockets. He had less than $4. He walked into the glass partitioned room inhabited by the next junior with a request for cash. The next junior had $11 and was on his way uptown. The junior partner tried the seniors. None was in. Then he called the head clerk and asked him to cash a check for the sum.
"Sorry, sir," said the head clerk. "But there isn't $40 in the vaults."
So that a boy was sent to a bank on the street level and the money obtained. The explanation is, of course, that such an establishment has no need for actual cash in the transaction of its business. But it is rather queer that a banking house of such magnitude should be stumped for $40.

An Automobile Accident.
Gay Perdue of Hutchinson, Kan., formerly of Maryville, was in an automobile accident last week in which he narrowly escaped being killed.
In company with three other business men of Hutchinson, they were driving in a car to Salina on a business trip, and in making a sharp turn in the road leading to the town they struck a two-foot embankment and the automobile leaped over a barbed wire fence into a newly plowed field. Mr. Perdue and companions were thrown a distance of twenty-five feet, the soft plowed ground saving them from broken bones or death. The automobile cleared the fence, but the paint was scraped off the car as it went over.

CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help, Cardui Worked Like a Charm.
Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S. Kendrick, in a letter from this place, "and at times, I could not bear to stand on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer.
I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They said medicines would do me no good, and I thought I would have to die.
At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now, I am well, and can do my own work. I don't feel any pains.
Cardui worked like a charm."
There must be merit in this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—Cardui—for it has been in successful use for more than 50 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and disease.
Please try it, for your troubles.

OFFERED 1,400 HORSE CURES
REWARD FOR PLAGUE REMEDY BROUGHT MANY REPLIES.
All Prescriptions Now Being Tested at Lawrence—Come From This and Seven Foreign Counties.
Topeka, Oct. 10.—More than 1,400 alleged cures for the horse plague which swept Kansas this summer have been submitted to Gov. Stubbs in competition for the reward of $1,000 offered by the government to anyone who could produce a cure.
The last day when cures could be submitted has passed. The proclamation offering the reward was issued September 9 and was good for 30 days, the cure to be submitted in that time and tested afterward.
All of the cures and prescriptions have been sent to the state agricultural college for testing, and the veterinarians will determine whether anyone is entitled to the reward.
The cures came from every state in the Union and from seven foreign countries. Many were submitted by women. Only five of the remedies are exactly alike.
Many of the cures contained some of the strongest drugs known used in medicine and in quantities that meant sure death to the animal if administered. Very few were offered by veterinarians and about 50 were sent by drug houses and patent medicine manufacturers.

PROTECT LOWER EXPRESS RATES
Attorneys for All Big Companies Appear Before Commerce Commission to Fight Reduction.
Washington, Oct. 10.—Attorneys representing the American, the Southern, Wells Fargo, Adams, United States, Great Northern and fifteen other express companies, including the Canadian Express company and express companies of Great Britain and France doing an international business with express companies in the United States, appeared before the interstate commerce commission today and opposed recent findings of the commission reducing express rates generally throughout the United States.
During the session of congress when it was proposed by certain members to condemn express property and put it under government control, express companies generally. It was understood, would accept the findings of the commission. Much surprise was occasioned when it was discovered that certain companies were preparing to fight the matter out in the courts. The arguments submitted today by express attorneys was preliminary, it is understood, to an appeal to either the commerce court or the United States district courts.
It is supposed by men familiar with the case that the companies will fight the matter out in the courts.

THIS BEATS SUFFRAGISTS' WAY
Doughbors in Canada Try to Force Release of Insane Members From Asylum by Drastic Means.
Brandon, Manitoba, Oct. 10.—A band of Doughbors who have come here to try to induce the authorities of the Provincial insane asylum located here, to liberate several members of their sect, who have been confined in the institution two years, are giving the police trouble. The Doughbors are adopting the methods that attracted so much attention several years ago. They loiter around the asylum grounds and divest themselves of their clothing. Their community is located northwest of Yorkton, Sask., and these here claim others will come until their number will reach 3,000. The police have arrested a number of these here.

NAMES RECEIVERS FOR GAS COMPANY

Kansas Natural Now Under Protection
of Federal Court.

INSISTS ON FIFTY CENT RATE

Petition States This is the Only Remedy for Financial Difficulties—
Judges Order Receivers to Get More Gas.

Kansas City, Kan., Oct. 10.—Three receivers for the Kansas Natural Gas company were appointed 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon by Judge Pollock of the Kansas federal court and Judge Campbell of the Oklahoma federal court, sitting jointly.

The men named are Conway F. Holmes, Kansas City, Mo., president of the Pioneer Trust company; George Sharritt, Topeka, former clerk of the U. S. circuit court, and Eugene F. Mackey, Pittsburgh, Pa., president of the Kansas Natural Gas company.

The receivers' bonds were fixed at $25,000 each and they were directed to take charge of the gas company's property at once.

Only Attorneys Present.

No one appeared in the proceedings except Charles Blood Smith, attorney for John L. McKinney, a Pennsylvania bondholder of the company, who asked the receivership, and John J. Jones, attorney for the company.

In the course of the afternoon J. W. Garner, an assistant city counselor of Kansas City, Mo., and R. J. Higgins, Kansas City, Kan., city attorney, appeared before the judges, who were closeted in Judge Pollock's private office, and requested that action on the receivership be deferred until the city representatives could look over the petition filed by Mr. Smith. The judges informed the city attorneys that in the event receivers were appointed no action which could be detrimental to either city would be taken.

Only Way Out.

The petition stated that the only way by which the company can get out of its financial difficulties is to furnish natural gas for lighting and cooking only at 50 cents a thousand cubic feet.

Judge Pollock said the receivership is intended to be a benefit to every gas consumer furnished by the Kansas Natural Gas company in that it is aimed to provide a greater supply of gas. In his opinion, the receivership was the only way left for the company to obtain money for extensions so that the output of new fields could be added.

Into Glenn Pool.

In the order appointing the receivers the judges directed that the receivers proceed at once to obtain the added supply of gas from the Glenn Pool district. According to Judge Pollock they will and themselves without funds to build the extensions as directed. When, in this extremity they appeal to the court, the court will make some provision for their obtaining the money.

While awaiting the outcome of the consultation between the judges the two interested attorneys made no secret of the fact that the receivership proceedings, instituted nominally by a bondholder, were quite acceptable to the company.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 10.—A fuzzy dog worth $5,000 was choked to death here by a pet monkey belonging to Joseph Wimmer, a scrap iron dealer. The dog was a prize Pomeranian and belonged to Robert Graham, a wealthy councilman. Wimmer's maid led the dog into the yard in the evening. As soon as the dog showed interest the monkey went for him and a battle followed. The monkey, though severely cut, finally got a hold on the dog's throat and it was all over. Graham got a warrant for Wimmer and his monkey.

EASY TO RESTORE HAT

HOW WORK OF FRESHENING MAY BE ACCOMPLISHED.

Washing in Denatured Alcohol Will Do Wonders With the Faded Flowers the Hardest to Bring Back to Color.

The girl who does not want to spend another dollar on her hats can do a surprising amount of freshening. Let her remove the trimming and freshen the hat itself. A black hat is easy. It can be made to look like new by washing in denatured alcohol after dusting. The entire hat may be soaked in the alcohol and while still damp it is straightened where bent.

The woman who once a week wipes off black hats with alcohol and also uses it on ribbons will find her hats wear much longer.

Colored hats that have faded are seemingly hopeless, but a box of water-color paint, or some of the special dyes for straw hats, soon restores their beauty. Soiled white hats can be freshened by bread crumbs—a favorite method of cleaning with many milliners—and they are improved by coating thickly with magnesia, which is kept on overnight. One woman uses the whiteness that she put on her shoes.

Sunburnt hats are hard to freshen. If good, they should be sent to a bleacher; if not worth that, try bleaching them at home with oxalic acid, a teaspoonful in a pint of water.

Scrub the straw well, then rinse at once with hot water, followed by cold. Wipe dry and hang in the sun. While still damp, press with a hot iron on the wrong side, with a thin cloth over the straw.

White feathers and the numerous aigrettes of the season may be made snowy by cleaning in a paste made of gasoline and white cornmeal, and rinsing with gasoline alone, or with more of the paste until it shows no soil. If the curl has come out, hold it over the kitchen range or curl the flues, a few at a time, with the back of a heated silver knife.

Ribbons may be washed in alcohol and pressed under heavy paper or a thick cloth while still slightly damp.

Faded flowers are almost hopeless, but may be freshened by coloring with powdered rouge, rubbing off the edges for shaded effects.

Steel buckles can be soaked in coal oil for six or eight hours, then polished with fine emery. Jet is brightened by rubbing in alcohol and polishing with tissue paper. Dulled bronze and gilt trimmings are difficult, but may be somewhat freshened by good silver polish thinned with alcohol instead of water.

Lace that will wash should be first soaked in cold water, then put in a glass jar with lukewarm water and a tiny pinch of borax and well shaken. Rinse well in several hot waters, squeeze out most of the moisture and dry by covering a drawing board with a Turkish towel, to which the lace is pinned, each point in position. Dry in the sun.

Lace that will not wash may be cleaned with French chalk or magnesia.

DENIES THE MORGAN STORY

MACVEACH DEMANDED HEARING BEFORE COMMITTEE.

Arrived From Bryn Mawr, Pa., Just in Time to be First Witness Called.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Wayne MacVeagh of Bryn Mawr, Pa., from whom it is alleged to have originated the story that President Roosevelt demanded more money from J. P. Morgan and E. H. Harriman during the 1904 campaign, and that Morgan referred to the president as that "maniac in the White House," arrived at the senate office building unexpectedly just before the senate committee convened and demanded to be placed on the stand.

Mr. MacVeagh was the first witness called. He immediately denied the fundamental fact of the testimony given by Charles Edward Russell and Jackson C. Welliver concerning the alleged request of President Roosevelt for additional campaign funds from J. P. Morgan by telephone in 1904.

MacVeagh was the authority given by both Welliver and Russell for their version of the story. He said that being on very friendly terms with Mr. Morgan he was very probably in Morgan's office on one or two occasions during 1904.

"I have no recollection, however," he said, "of overhearing Mr. Morgan hold a telephone conversation. I went and came into his office as I saw fit."

He said the only incident which he might have related to Welliver which would account for the Morgan story was hearsay and added: "It comes through two dead men."

MAY BE FIRST OF AERIAL WARFARE

Balkan Countries All Have Good Flying Equipment.

BULGARIA PLAYING FOR TIME

Servian Troops Rushing to Frontier by Forced Marches—French Foreign Office Still Waits Reply to Note.

Paris, Oct. 16.—A battle between armored aeroplanes, long considered a fancy of the inventive writer, probably will be made a real story in the Balkan war. Monoplanes, biplanes and even hydro-aeroplanes may figure in the fighting for all the countries concerned have flying departments of their armies.

Expert aviators, educated at French schools of flying have been enlisted in the armies of the peninsula countries. The practicability of the air craft in war probably will have its first test in this conflict, a test which probably will settle the question.

Turkey Has Twelve.

Turkey is fixed best for an air engagement. The Ottoman government recently bought eight monoplanes in France, two in England and two in Germany.

Greece possesses six French biplanes and one hydro-aeroplane. Bulgaria owns one monoplane and three biplanes and the war department at Sofia has ordered additional machines from Germany.

Bulgaria Hesitates.

The French foreign office at a late hour still was without a reply from Sofia, Athens or Belgrade, and the only suggestion thus far as to its possible tenor is found in the remark of the Bulgarian foreign minister, when the note of the powers was delivered that "perhaps it would have had a better chance of success if presented a fortnight earlier."

Bulgaria's hesitation is variously interpreted. Most of the diplomats are of the opinion that it is merely a device to gain time to complete the war preparations, but a shrewd minority has not given up hope that King Ferdinand is searching for some ground to enable him to give satisfaction to the powers without risking his own crown.

Servia to Declare.

Berlin, Oct. 16.—One of the leading Berlin banks has just received a telegram from Belgrade stating that the declaration of war by Servia would be delivered immediately. Servian troops are being rushed by forced marches toward the frontier from the mobilization center. The Servians and Turks already have come into contact, according to the reports of a special correspondent. Another telegram from Belgrade states that the reply of the Servian premier, M. Pasitch, to the Austro-Russian representations was tantamount to rejection.

Prince Fires First Shot.

Podgoritz, Montenegro, Oct. 16.—The Montenegrin army opened war against Turkey by attacking a strong Turkish position opposite Podgoritz. Prince Peter, the youngest son of King Nicholas, fired the first shot. Within 21 minutes five Turkish guns were silenced and by noon the Turks had evacuated the mountain.

TO INSIST ON HEALTH WEDDINGS

Methodists Favor Most Radical Changes Ever Adopted by Any Protestant Church.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—The Rock river conference of the Methodist Episcopal church is on record as favoring the most radical recommendations ever adopted with regard to marriage and divorce by a government body of a Protestant church.

"Wed in health or stay single," is the law which the conference would have adopted in every state.

Physical examination of every applicant for a marriage license, a statute providing that no divorce be granted except on Scriptural grounds, a law making abandonment of a wife by a husband a felony and federal control of the entire subject of marriage and divorce are advocated.

Indian Records Missing.

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 16.—In connection with the charges recently filed against J. J. Boles of Guthrie, Dr. A. L. Edgington of Watonga and E. D. McGowan of Tallhills, land appraisers in the employ of the interior department, it was announced that the daily journal of proceedings covering the appraisal of lands in the Choctaw-Chickasaw Indian country had been stolen.

NEWSPAPER TO TEST NEW LAW

New York Paper Refuses to File Circulation Figures as Required.

ASKS TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

American Publishers' Association is Backing Action Directed at Postmaster General Hitchcock and Other Officials.

New York, Oct. 16.—Suits to test the right of the government to enforce the federal law of August 24, 1912, requiring newspapers and periodicals to publish their circulation figures twice a year and imposing other publicity requirements, was filed in the United States district court here by the Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin company, publishers of the Journal of Commerce.

The suit is directed against Postmaster General Hitchcock, Attorney General Wickersham, United States District Attorney Wise and Postmaster Morgan of New York. The petitioner charges that the law is unconstitutional and prays for a temporary injunction restraining its enforcement until final adjudication. It also requests that the defendants be required by subpoena to answer.

Back of the action against Postmaster General Hitchcock, Attorney General Wickersham, United States District Attorney Wise and Postmaster Morgan of New York. The petitioner charges that the law is unconstitutional and prays for a temporary injunction restraining its enforcement until final adjudication. It also requests that the defendants be required by subpoena to answer.

Charges Law is Void. The petition alleges that there are upwards of 25,000 newspapers and periodicals in the country affected by the law. It charges that the law is void because it violates the constitution of the United States and particularly the first and fifth amendments and abridges the freedom of the press.

The law is characterized as of no benefit to the postoffice or any other department of the government inasmuch as obedience by the periodicals and newspapers would not "aid or assist in the operation of the postoffice department or in the carrying of the mails, or the regulation thereof."

Refuses to Comply.

In its petition the complainant announces that it will not comply with the law for the reasons given and declares that the defendants are about to enforce the law by denying the complainant the use of the mails.

It is charged also that the law enforced would result in the confiscation of the complainant's property without due process. "It is not within the power of congress," the complainant continues, "to enact said act; and it is an usurpation by congress of powers expressly reserved to the several states, and is legislation affecting matters with which the several states of the United States alone have the right to treat."

VICTIM HAS THIEF RELEASED

Wealthy Woman Bails Man Who Took Gems. So He May Help Recover Them.

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—Mrs. J. J. Valentine, widow of a former president of the Wells-Fargo Express company, had released from jail John Sommers, who admits that he found and pawned Mrs. Valentine's jewels, worth $10,000. Sommers is out on bail of $500, which Mrs. Valentine arranged for him.

"If I get him out he can help me find the jewels," she explained. "Most of them are heirlooms and I want them back particularly on that account."

Sommers was arrested in Los Angeles. He found the jewels in a San Francisco street car and kept one diamond, which led to his arrest.

To Send Mail by Air.

Berlin, Oct. 16.—Germany has asked Denmark whether it is disposed to employ German airships in carrying Trans-Baltic mails. Denmark paying a small subsidy which will be devoted to building and maintaining an airship station at Amager, near Copenhagen. Germany contends that air mail service would be particularly advantageous in winter, when the ice often delays steamships.

Kick Saved Boy's Life.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 16.—In a daring act of heroism, Milla C. Dodge, fireman on the Milwaukee railroad saved the life of Gerald Altar, a 2½-year-old boy by crawling out on the pilot and kicking the child from the track as the train sped by. The boy, who landed in a ditch by the track, suffered only minor injuries about the head and body.

25 CENT "DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR AND DANDRUFF--GROWS HAIR

DON'T PAY 50 CENTS FOR WORTH LESS HAIR TONICS—USE OLD, RELIABLE, HARMLESS "DAN DERINE"—GET RESULTS.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's

Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Left for Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Long left Thursday morning for Phoenix, Ariz., where they will spend the winter. In the spring they will go to Pomona, Cal., to spend the summer with their daughter, Mrs. John F. Whipp, and her family, who have been in Maryville since early summer on a visit to relatives. Mrs. Whipp underwent a surgical operation at St. Francis hospital about two weeks ago and will not be able to make the trip home for several weeks to come. Mr. and Mrs. Long's home, where Mrs. Whipp will be removed, is in charge of their granddaughter, Mrs. Cleve Moyer, and Mr. Moyer.

Her Patients for Thirty-Nine Days.

Mrs. S. A. Muse went to Parnell Wednesday to spend a few days with her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Thompson. Mrs. Muse is just through with her work as nurse for Rev. and Mrs. John Love of Burlington Junction, who are recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever. She cared for them thirty-nine days. Rev. Love is pastor of the Christian church at Burlington Junction. They were married in June and had been housekeeping but three weeks when Rev. Love was seized with fever, Mrs. Love succumbing to the disease two weeks later. They are now able to walk around in their home, but expect to leave Saturday for Camden Point to visit Rev. Love's mother during the days of convalescence.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Campbell of Elmo arrived Wednesday to visit their son, A. A. Campbell, and family.

Mrs. Frances Small of Pickering was in Maryville on business Wednesday.
